PREFACE.

It is with mingled feelings of relief and regret that I announce that the present number will probably be the last volume of the Waterman Year Book issued. Relief, because aside from all the monetary considerations, the preparation of the book has been a task making ever increasing demands upon my strength and time, to which, owing to my increasing duties as teacher, I was unable to yield adequate response. Regret, because the book has been a labor of love, in whose excellence, I took a constant pride, and of whose value at the present and in the years to come I never had the slightest doubt. But the facts remain that, after six years of publication and after constant and careful advertising the book has not attained a patronage large enough to pay the cost of the printer's bills, to say nothing of my own labor. Last year I made a careful canvas by mail in an endeavor to secure three hundred advance pledges for the 1908 volume, this number being necessary to reimburse me for actual cash outlay. The facts were trutrfully and plainly stated and the appeal was made as strong as I knew how. As a result I received one hundred twenty-five pledges. I know of several who overlooked the matter, or forgot it, and there is a possibility that, if I had made a personal canvass, I might have attained the desired end. But conditions cannot be changed. I am a resident of Waterman only a few weeks in the summer. I therefore accept the inevitable and for the present at least the publication of the book ceases. I know, as perhaps no other can, of the value of the book, and I believe the time will come when those at present indifferent to the book will regret the cessation of its publication. Perhaps when the public is ready for it I can again take the matter up, but more likely I shall be so situated that I can yield no response.

Again I must say, lest I be charged with favoriteism, that if I seem to have given more space proportionately to some societies and life sketches than to others, it has been due to no other reason than that some responded readily to every request for information while others were negligent or positively refused it.

The book has had its warm friends and their number has not been small. Their words of commendation and symjathy have cheered me in my labors. It is on their account that the chief regret comes in the announcement I have here made.

Biography

GRACE AGNES BUSHNELL ANDREWS.

Cortes F. Overton * was born on Long Island about 1796, but at an early age his father removed to what was then known as the Black River Country, and the earlier and more active years of his life were spent in Henderson, Jefferson county, N. Y. It was here that he embraced religion, and was, by Elder Emory Osgood, of gracious memory, baptized into fellowship of the First Baptist church, and in connection with which he continued a prominent and active member over thirty years. Here was born to him a large family of children, most of whom remain (at the time of his death,—G. E. C.),

* All effort to learn more of his ancestry has so far been in vain. Grant M. Overton, Patchogue, L. I., was compiling a genealogy in 1902, but is unable to place this family. "Heads of Families—Census of 1790" gives the following of the name:

The Rhode Island and Vermont volumes do not contain the name. The other volumes I have not consulted. In the statistics given the first column includes "Free white males of 16 years and upward, including heads of families," the second "Free white males under 16 years." the third "Free white females, including heads of families," the fourth "All other free persons," and the fifth "Slaves." Suffolk county is on long Island.

* June 24th, 1854 * * * Brother C. F. Overton presented a letter to the church requesting to become a member and was received by the unanimous votes of the church.—"Johnson's Grove Church Records," page 24. He was elected clerk of the church May 3, 1856, and was appointed delegate to the council to recognize the Clinton Center Church in 1856 and 1858 (J.G.C. Records, pp 28 and 39.) It was largely through his influence that Rev. R. Persons removed from Henderson, N. Y. in 1857 to became pastor of the Jonhson Grove Church in 1856 and 1858 (J. G.C. Records pp 28 and 39. It was largely through his influence become pastor of the Johnson Grove Church. He was frequently a delegate to the meetings of the Association, and on important committees of the church.

Grove, Illinois, and thence about the first of April, 1869, to Council Bluffs, Iowa. Soon after his removal to Council Bluffs he contracted a severe cold which greatly aggravated a bronchial affection to which he had been subject for many years, resulting in lung fever and finally terminating in bronchial consumption, of which he died after an illness which confined him to his bed over three months. His death took place at Council Bluffs Iowa, August 13, 1869, in the 73d year of his age. * Mr. Overton, as a business man, was remarkable for great energy and decision of character, prompt in all his engagements, and as a neighbor universally respected and esteemed. In him the poor found a friend, and the oppressed an advocate and a helper. As a Christian, he for over fifty years maintained his relation to the church of Christ which he greatly loved and for which he was ever ready to sacrifice. In the early days of the Chicago University, he became deeply interested in its prosperity, and at that time gave one thousand dollars in aid of this school of the prophets, and at his death retained a scholarship in the institution. His last words were "Jesus is precious." He married Philena Corkings. His children were: * 1. Cortes Fernando, Jr., born January 18.1819. at Belleville, Canada, married Fidelia Pratt Hathaway at Henderson, N. Y., September 8, 1840, and died at Shabbona, Illinois, March 4, 1868; 2. Oscar A. Tubbs was at one time resident of Clinton township and was elected supervisor in 1857. He died in Chicago, December 15,1898. He was converted during the great revival in the Johnson's Grove church and baptized November 1, 1857. May 1, 1858, he was chosen clerk of the church, was elected a delegate to the council of recognition of the Clinton Centre Baptist church 1858, and was a delegate to the session of the Ottawa Association, at Amboy June 23, 1858. He and his wife received letters of dismissal, June 17, 1859. His daughter Agnes O., married Joseph P. Bushnell, and had two children: Grace Agnes and Charles J. Bushnell, Ph. D., of Waxahackie, Texas.

B.) in 1900, after which she taught in the high schools of Chicago, Onawa, Iowa, and Morrison, Illinois. She married at Chicago, Illinois, June 30, 1904, Rev. GEORGE BEVERIDGE.

George Beveridge was a son of John C. and Mary A. (McCleery) Beveridge * and was born in Victor township August 19, 1874. He studied medicine and practiced his profession at Guernsey and Rheinbeck, Iowa, dying at the latter place October 3, 1907. He had a deep interest in genealogy and in his investigation of the Beveridge family had visited Scotland and searched the treasures of the British museum.

MARA A. McCLEERY BEVERIDGE.

The earliest known ancestor of the McCleery family * is John McCleery, who was born in Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 7, 1771, the son of a Scottish laird. The name of his father is not known, but it was not McCleery. The family crest was a pelican on a shield feeding its young with its heart's blood. When about twenty-one, while working in London, he was captured and carried off by the press gang of the British navy. He would not enlist, but was compelled to serve. At one time he was sentenced to be shot for striking a superior officer who struck him with his sword. He came to Quebec where he went on shore and at once started for New York on foot, a distance of three hundred miles through what at that time was a wilderness. For fear of recapture his name was changed, and the history cannot be traced further unless something could be done through the old family crest. He came to Cambridge, New York, where he married Margaret Cook, March 16, 1797. To them were born ten children, of whom the first died in infancy and the second was James McCleery who was born June 5, 1803,

He attended school (not common) at Alexandria, New York, from 1860 to 1863. This study was interrupted by answering the country's call for soldiers. Again he entered Bennett Medical College in 1879, graduating therefrom in March 1882, and since that time has practiced medicine except at brief periods acting as pastor of several churches. During all this period of twenty years he supplied interests which would have been otherwise destitute of ministerial service. He was converted at Attica, New York, in 1855, uniting with the Baptist church in that place. He was ordained at Fairwater, Wisconsin, with a view to evangelistic work about 1867. He held pastorates as follows: Evansville, Wisconsin; Downer's Grove, Illinois; Waterman and Hinckley, Illinois; Princeton, Illinois; Muscatine, Iowa; Chicago, South, Illinois; Tama

Travel Within the Reach of All

....BY....

The Underwood Travel System

This Travel System is unique. It consists of travel of the tru est kind, and yet without utilizing either railroad or ship, or any of the ordinary bodily conveyances. This statement is so extraordinary that you will not believe it at first sight, but a careful examination of this Travel System, and some actual experiences with it, will convince you of the truthfulness of these claims.

Prof. Jas. H. Breasted, Ph. D.—"By means of this Travel System the joys of travel can be extended to that large class of our people who thirst for an acquaintance with the distant lands of other ages, but are prevented by the expense involved, or by the responsibilities of home, business or profession."

Prof. R. B. Richardson, Ph. D.—"Direct access to Greece can be given by this Travel System from every classroom, student's room, and from homes generally."

Rev. Jesse L. Hurlbutt, D. D.—"Now, in a real sense, it is possible for all to know what it means to stand in all the more important places throughout the land of Palestine.
